

American Sporthorse
2008 Biomechanics Workshop:
“Influence & Timing”

With Mary Wanless &
Alexsandra Howard

This workshop is open to all (instructors, riders of all levels, trainers, judges) and specifically designed to help instructors to make big changes in their students. Riders often report that attending this seminar is more beneficial than riding in a clinic - learning to see clearly what the rider's goal really is and the various biomechanical and training strategies used by successful riders to achieve it. Come experience a unique learning seminar with a high repeat attendance! We encourage interaction, stimulating discussions, and do away with political correctness at the door. This is an academic and practical learning seminar unlike any others. Bring problems, ideas, questions, and be prepared to learn!

When: February 13 - 15, 2008; 9 AM-5 PM daily with noontime lunch break on your own

Where: American Sporthorse ~1177 Buena Vista Drive ~ Watsonville, California 95076

Cost: $275 for the full 3 day course if received by January 15; $300 after January 15, 2008.

$150 for any single day, although note that Day 3 is only open to those who have previously attended Day 1 or another entire Wanless Teacher Training event.

We will limit last minute sign ups if the weather report indicates we will need to be indoors. Some demonstration riders will be needed, contact organizer. For repeat instructors only: Evening meeting for Collaborative Network on Day 1 to roundtable for business and professional networking issues.

Details: Dress warmly! Hot beverages and snacks on grounds, many lunch places within a 5-minute drive. If flying, use San Jose Int'l Airport (closest: about 45-60 minute drive) or Oakland or San Francisco Airports (both about 1.5 hr) Hotel information is on the ASH website dressage show page.

Riding Clinic with Mary Wanless

When: February 9, 10, 11, 2008; 9 AM - 5 PM daily with noontime lunch break.

[Congrats to last year's clinic attendees: Carol Liebman, Robert Kelley, Tanya Vik, Sandy Howard, & Elizabeth Anderson on their accomplishments at the CDS Championship show! 5 championships and many top placings!]

Auditing strongly encouraged – we have a PA system and there is a Q & A session daily for rider and auditor participation. No cost for Workshop participants to audit, $25/day or $60 for entire clinic for others.

Where: American Sporthorse ~1177 Buena Vista Drive ~ Watsonville, California 95076
Space and stabling is limited, please call organizer for details.

More questions? Call 831-336-2801 FIND REGISTRATION FORMS AT <http://www.in-balance.com/>

Introductory Class in Integrative Manual Therapy for Animals runs Saturday to Tuesday after the Workshop – see separate flyer on Animal Manual Therapy or call for information

2008 American Sporthorse Biomechanics Workshop with Mary Wanless & Sandy Howard

Application Form

Please print and mail to: 10200 Love Creek Rd, Ben Lomond, CA 95005

Name _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____

Zip _____ Email: _____

Home Phone _____ Cell _____

I'm a: Judge _____ Instructor _____ Student _____ Trainer _____

Riding disciplines: _____

Available to be a Demo Rider _____ (with or without own horse?)

Attended how many Wanless workshops before? _____

Requests for covered topics this year? _____

Attending:

_____ Entire workshop ($275 for whole seminar Feb. 13-15 sign up before January 15; $300 if received after January 15, 2008)

_____ Partial workshop ($150 for any single day) Weds Thurs Fri

_____ Riding Clinic Auditor (2/9-11) ($25/day or $60 for whole clinic)

_____ Riding Clinic (2/9-11) $550 for 3 days of rides, singles $200

_____ Total

Send check (payable to American Sporthorse) and registration to:

Anne Howard
10200 Love Creek Rd
Ben Lomond, CA 95005

Phone: 831-336-2801
Cell: 831-247-5584
Fax 831-336-4255