

The Center for Dressage Education at American Sporthorse presents

2016
MARY WANLESS
Clinic and Workshop

Riding Clinic
February 9-11
(Tuesday - Thursday)

Workshop
Feb 13-15
(Saturday – Monday)

American Sporthorse
Watsonville, CA

The Workshop introduces Mary's Ride With Your Mind approach to instruction and the biomechanics of correct & effective riding. Originally designed for instructors, by popular demand this seminar is open to all. Strategies for clear communication and teaching skills are always featured as well as tailoring the program to those attending. Every year new ideas and concepts are shared, introducing tools for riders and instructors to use on and off-horse that focus on either developing rider skills or the horse/rider interface. Bring questions, ideas, and problems for this interactive meeting of keen dressage minds! The format is a mix of lecture, demonstration, and some instruction to illustrate concepts. Several demonstration riders will be selected to provide an assortment of issues to address. Topics for this year include contact and teaching strategies for good hands, fascial lines, and rider assessment tools for instructors.

The Riding Clinic is open to all with priority to returning instructors, instructors, ASH clients, and returning riders. Auditors are encouraged and may participate in the daily theory session. In general, more advanced concepts are illustrated as well as applying the RWYM approach to upper level dressage training and coaching. The format will be a 60-minute semi-private lessons. Daily theory session allows for Q&A with Mary and riders. Riders will be posted on the website as they are confirmed. Applications are open until Jan 10th, accepted riders will be posted by the 15th.

For both sessions: Our goal is to create an interactive educational program that leaves political correctness at the door and really delves into the core rider basics of what it takes to create correct dressage at all levels. This annual program is geared to improving communication between teacher/student and rider/horse. Riders, trainers, and instructors of all levels are welcomed to both events. Discount if attending both sessions. We have many regular returning instructors who network and collaborate throughout the clinics. It is a dynamic group and growing every year!

This approach changes riders for the better, improves horse/rider relationships, and has been a transformative event for many - improving their skills as riders, trainers, and instructors. Come join this group of riders dedicated to being the best that can be for their equine partners.
